

A child's drawing on the left side of the poster. It features a blue body of water with a large, detailed eye floating in it. Above the water is a green grassy bank with several colorful flowers (pink, blue, yellow). A small red heart is drawn on the grass. Below the water, there's a green, textured shape, possibly a rock or a piece of land, with more red hearts. At the bottom, there's a red, fleshy shape that looks like a mouth or a tongue. The drawing is done with crayons and markers.
